GovDeals online auction event sale provides buyers with access to a wide range of surplus assets while helping PennDOT efficiently manage a large-scale disposition effort

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 30, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- The Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) is partnering with GovDeals to conduct a statewide online auction event featuring approximately 350 fleet and heavy equipment assets. The auction will begin on July 29, 2026, and close on August 14, 2026.

While PennDOT has previously sold surplus assets through GovDeals, this marks the agency's first event-style auction of this scale on the platform. The sale will include a diverse inventory of vehicles, heavy equipment, and fleet-related assets from locations across Pennsylvania, giving buyers a convenient opportunity to browse and bid on a significant number of items through a single online event.

Using the GovDeals' online marketplace allows efficient management of selling assets from multiple locations while expanding visibility to a nationwide audience of registered buyers. The platform allows interested bidders to view detailed asset information, place bids remotely, and participate in the auction process without the limitations typically associated with traditional in-person sales.

The statewide event reflects PennDOT's ongoing commitment to maximizing the value of surplus assets through transparent and competitive sales processes. By bringing hundreds of assets together in a single auction event, the agency can streamline administration while increasing awareness among prospective buyers.

Interested buyers can browse available assets, review photographs and descriptions, and place bids directly on PennDOT's GovDeals auction page .

To participate in an auction, users must first create a GovDeals account and complete the free registration form.
