

Liquidity Services Conducting Auction on Behalf of NBC Olympics for Surplus Broadcast & IT Equipment Used at the Sochi Winter Games

July 21, 2014

Bidding opens August 1 at Liquidity Services' online marketplace www.GovLiquidation.com for array of broadcast, IT, and electronic test & measurement equipment from 2014 Winter Games

WASHINGTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 21, 2014-- Liquidity Services, Inc. (NASDAQ:LQDT), a global solution provider in the reverse supply chain with the world's largest marketplace for business surplus, is conducting an online auction for surplus equipment utilized at the Sochi Winter Games and no longer needed by NBC Olympics in the U.S. This sale features a diverse array of assets, including broadcast, IT, and electronic test & measurement equipment. Interested buyers will have the opportunity to bid on over 100 auction lots via Liquidity Services' online marketplace, www.GovLiquidation.com.

Bidding for the assets, all of which are located in the U.S., opens on August 1 at 12am ET and closes August 5 at 5pm ET; potential bidders can visit the auction page for more details: <http://www.govliquidation.com/events?cmd=details&event=20927>

"We are pleased to partner with NBC Olympics on a full-service, compliant solution to streamline the management and sale of surplus assets," said Tom Burton, Executive Vice-President and President for Liquidity Services' Capital Assets Group. "This auction demonstrates NBC's clear commitment to sustainable disposition for equipment used in the Olympics. The assets sold in this auction will not only be deterred from landfills, but will serve a useful purpose as working equipment for other businesses."
