Company Partners with Sims Recycling Solutions to Responsibly Dispose of More Than 460,000 Units of IT and Electronic Equipment

WASHINGTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 14, 2015-- Liquidity Services (NASDAQ: LQDT), a global solution provider in the reverse supply chain with the world's largest marketplace for business surplus, announced today that one of its online marketplaces, Government Liquidation, recently received recognition from Sims Recycling Solutions for its efforts to responsibly dispose of more than 460,000 units of IT and electronic equipment. The company was selected to receive this honor based on the high volume of assets disposed, as well as its overall commitment to sustainability.

"We are pleased to again receive this honor from Sims Recycling Solutions," said Bruce Gearey, Executive Vice President of Global Operations for Liquidity Services' Capital Assets Group. "Since we began our partnership with Sims more than a decade ago, we have worked with clients in multiple industries to develop and implement comprehensive end-of-life IT and electronic asset management programs that ensure maximum recovery value, compliance with environmental and data privacy laws, and support for corporate-level sustainability initiatives."

"One of the challenges companies face today is having full confidence in an IT disposal vendor to securely and responsibly destroy confidential data and equipment," stated Steve Skurnac, President of Sims Recycling Solutions. "As a leading global provider of IT disposal services, we are proud that the strength of our data security and end-of-life management service offerings allows us to work with some of the largest Fortune 100 companies in the world."
